NICE GIRL.

Public Oath of the New Doctor.

There is an interesting ceremony connected with the graduating exercises of the old Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia. It is a good and ancient custom, and ought to be adopted by all medical colleges.

At the recent commencement there were 117 young doctors graduated and turned loose upon the world. They were required to take the famous Hippocratic Oath, which seems to be a good thing both for the doctors and the public. The form of this famous vow is as follows:

"You do solemnly swear, each man, by whatever he holds most sacred:

"That you will be loyal to the profession of medicine and just and generous to its members.

"That you will lead your lives and practice your art in uprightness and honor.

"That into whatsoever house you shall enter, it shall be for the good of the sick to the utmost of your power, you holding yourself aloof from wrong, from corruption, from the tempting of others to vice.

"That you will exercise your art solely for the care of your patient, and will give no drug, perform no operation for a criminal purpose, even if solicited, far less suggest it.

"That whatsoever you shall see or hear of the lives of men which is not fitting to be spoken, you will keep inviolably secret.

"These things do you swear? Then let each man bow his head in sign of acquiescence.

"And now if you shall be true to this, your oath, may prosperity and good repute be ever yours; the opposite, if you should prove yourselves forsworn."

Bad Climate for Spirits.

"Traveling in Scotland one summer day," said Miss Elizabeth Marbury, of New York, "I stopped at a farm house for a glass of milk. The mountain view was so beautiful that I exclaimed:

"What a splendid place to live!"

"It's veragude place," said the highlander, "but I haf ta walk 15 miles when I want a glass o' whisky."

"Why don't you keep a few bottles in your house?" I inquired.

"Whusky won't keep," said he, sadly. — Washington Star.

His Hand Upon Your Shoulder.

When a man ain't got a cent, and he's feeling kind of blue,

And the clouds hang dark and heav and won't let sunshine through;

It's a great thing, O, my brethren, for a feller just to lay

His hand upon your shoulder in a kind and friendly way.

It makes a man feel queerish, and it makes the teardrops start,

And you sort o' feel a patter in the region of the heart;

You can't look up and meet his eyes, you don't know what to say,

When his hand is on your shoulder in a friendly sort of way.

O, the world's a curious compound, with its honey and its gall,

With its cares and bitter crosses, but a good world after all;

And a good God must have made it, leastwise that is what I say,

When a hand is on my shoulder in a friendly sort of way.

—Whitcomb Riley.

Pearidge.

Lookout! Here comes old "Blue Lilacs" again, with some more news from dear old Pearidge.

Farmers are about through with their work in this section. Nice, welcome rains visited this vicinity last week.

Health of this section very good, except that we hear some of the girls are complaining with the toothache in their ankles.

Dr. Jake Porter looked good with her at Six Mile, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waldrop visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Garrett, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Alvin Bolding was with Miss — at the singing Sunday, and seemed to be having a sweet and lovely time.

The Misses Hunnicutt spent one day last week with the Misses Lewis. The girls report a jolly old time.

Mrs. J. R. Porter visited her sister, Mrs. Ed. Stephens, in Pickens, Sunday.

Mr. Alvin Bolding spent Saturday night with Mr. Seigel Bolding.

Mr. Doyle Porter escorted his best girl to Sabbath school Sunday evening.

Messrs. Jesse Durham and Jesse Bolding called on their sweethearts Sunday evening.

Mrs. Alice Bolding and little daughter, Irene, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Sallie Garrett.

Mr. and Mrs. George Durham recently made a very pleasant trip to Georgia.

Messrs. Bruce Hunnicutt and Pickens Stephens are now working at Bivens' sawmill. Old Bruce is going to cook. How the girls would like to partake of some of his cooking. Tee-hee.

The protracted meeting begins at Mountain View, Friday night before the first Sunday in August.

"Black Eyes," we've got new top-buggies with rubber tires, and pretty girls to ride in them, with good-looking boys to do the driving. Come over and take a ride.

Several on this side have recently indulged in a straw ride. A tip-top time is reported.

Misses Vessie and Lillie Lewis were the guests of Miss Lola Burns, Sunday evening.

Hello! "Susie," come again. We think we know you.

BLUE LILACS.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to express my keen appreciation of the flattering support given me in the Sentinel-Journal contest which resulted in my winning the stalk-cutter, and especially do I thank the kind ladies who interested themselves in my behalf.

Respectfully,
W. B. ALLGOOD.

Doctor the Cause

Not the Effect

If you are afflicted with boils, pimples, scrofula, salt rheum, eczema, or any other indication of impure blood, don't waste time and money in external remedies for the treatment of these symptoms.

You can avoid all these things by taking Dike's Blood and Skin Remedy.

Sometimes there are no outward symptoms of impure blood, but instead there is a feeling of languor, a run-down, listless condition, loss of appetite—showing that the organs and tissues of the body are not being nourished as they should be.

The use of Dike's Blood and Skin Remedy is followed by the most pleasing results. The boils heal up and disappear; the skin becomes soft and smooth again, instead of harsh and scaly, or pimpled. The liver is stimulated, the blood enriched, and soon the whole system feels the beneficial action of this excellent remedy. Pure blood means health and strength, and Dike's Blood and Skin Remedy makes pure blood.
